Should I apply for financial aid?

If you are committed to providing a Waldorf education for your child but you are concerned about your ability to pay the tuition, you should consider applying for financial aid. 50% of our students currently receive various levels of financial aid. Because every family's situation is unique, it is not possible to determine a family's eligibility or grant level without a full application. The following information and examples are meant to provide a very general guideline:

You should consider applying -

If your income is below:	$115,000	$155,000	$190,000
and
You have # children enrolled:	1 child	2 children	3 children

Example One:

A family with total income between $90,000-$110,000 with one child enrolled might receive a grant between $2,000 - $5,000 and pay tuition between $13,000 - $17,000.

Example Two:

A family with total income between $130,000 - $140,000 with two children enrolled might receive grants of $4,000-$6,000 per child and pay tuition between $12,000 - $15,000 per child.
